

Labelling and Coding

The aim of this course is to provide learners with an understanding of the purpose of labelling and the regulations that need to be followed during the labelling process. Learners will also acquire knowledge and skills regarding the stages of labelling, various labelling methods, the application control process, methods of date coding, and the operating of inkjet coding equipment.

- ✓ OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH, SAFETY AND THE ENVIRONMENT
- ✓ LABELS AND LABELLING REGULATIONS
- ✓ COLD GLUE LABELLING PROCESS
- ✓ OPERATING A LABELLING MACHINE
- ✓ DATE CODING

At the end of this course learners will be able to:

- Understand the importance of occupational health and safety
- Understand the purpose of labelling and importance of labelling regulations
- Understand the various labelling methods
- Understand the principles of operations for different types of labelling
- Understand the labelling stages
- Understand the cold glue labelling process
- Understand the application control process
- Understand labelling quality and first line maintenance
- Understand the methods of date coding
- Understand how to operate inkjet coding equipment